The governor said the recent legislature provided $17,829,000 as the state's share toward education. This, he said, compared with $16,882,000 for the current biennium, which ends June 30. The amount, he pointed out, represented 46.7 per cent of the budget as against 45.3 per cent for the current program.

The governor said it was estimated that income to the state from all sources, including ad valorem taxes, in the coming biennium, will be $36,907,000. He remarked that of the total, 30.2 per cent will come from taxes on so-called "vices," such as cigarettes, beer, punchboards, slot machines and liquor.

He said 46.7 per cent of the general fund appropriations for the 1951-53 biennium, or $17,829,000 went for education, compared with 45.3 per cent or $16,882,000 for the present biennium."

"This does not indicate that Idaho returned education to the dark ages," he said.

He said the appropriations included $8,250,000 for public schools; $7,864,000 for higher education and $1,715,000 for all other education, such as vocational education and other such special functions.

The governor said 41.8 per cent of the appropriations, or $15,974,000 for the next biennium went for humanitarian needs—public assistance, charitable institutions and for veterans; public health and tuberculosis control and the penitentiary. He said the total for the current biennium was $15,157,000 for these purposes or 40.7 per cent of the budget.

He told the youth legislature that the appropriation for all other functions of state government was $4,287,000 or 11.3 per cent for the 1951-53 biennium, compared with $5,164,000 or 14 per cent for the two years ending June 30.

…cArthur Again Proves to Be …ottest Potato of Truman Term

…INGTON, April 6 (AP)—Gen Douglas MacArthur has proved again he is one of the …administration's hottest potatoes. His latest challenge of administration policy and …on authority was burning fingers today at the White House, the state department …Pentagon.

…thur's letter to a Republican leader, Rep. Joe Martin, Massachusetts, warmly en-… …artin's demand that the thousands of Chinese nationalist troops on Formosa under command of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek be used in action against the Chinese and Korean communists, had potentialities in at least three fields:

1 Domestic politics.

2. International politics, including the United Nations program in the far east.

Stirs Speculation

3. Military strategy.

While MacArthur's letter promptly raised speculation about possible disciplinary action against the five-star general there was serious question whether the White House would risk a bitter fight in congress by removing him from command or promoting him out of it.

After reading MacArthur's letter to the house yesterday, Martin made it evident that here was the material for an issue. He said:

"I think it is high time that the administration and the Pentagon came clean with the congress and the American people."

State Department Irked

The state department, which has been openly unhappy on previous occasions over MacArthur's frank and free discussions of diplomatic affairs, obviously was chagrined again.

The general's latest writings had come to light at a time when American diplomats were trying to quiet the worry of allies over Chinese reaction to a new push into North Korea. Nor could they fail to note MacArthur's comment that "here we fight Europe's war with arms, while the diplomats there still fight it with words."

Pentagon Winces

The Pentagon high command winced at this new pronouncement from the Tokyo command.

It was made evident that the military leaders in Washington, on purely strategic grounds, disagreed with MacArthur on two major points made in his letter:

1. That "utilization of the Chinese forces on Formosa is in conflict with neither logic nor (the) tradition of meeting force with maximum counter force."

2. That "in Asia is where the communist conspirators have elected to make their play for global conquest."

The Pentagon chiefs do not subscribe to MacArthur's belief that the communists have picked Asia as the major arena.

5-Year Terms Given Trio on Check Charge

Three men were sentenced to a maximum of five years in the state penitentiary Thursday after pleading guilty in district court to drawing checks without funds in a bank. A fourth who pleaded guilty of grand larceny will be sentenced at 2 p.m. Friday.

Fon Fred Gleed and a brother, Wayne Gleed, who gave their address as Arco, were given five-year sentences. The two men pleaded guilty of passing a worthless check to E. E. Davidson, operator of the Magic City market.

Cashed Checks

The two men were apprehended by local officers after they had succeeded in cashing worthless checks valued at approximately $500 in Twin Falls business establishments. Equipped with over 500 blank payroll checks, the pair began working Twin Falls business places the afternoon of March 20. About 12 hours later they were arrested.

Gerald Eugene Martin, Oregon, also was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for cashing a $2 check without funds. Martin cashed the check at the Yellow cab office March 23 and was arrested later the same day.

Wanted Elsewhere

All three men are wanted by authorities in other cities. Warrants for the Gleeds are being held by Mountain Home, Farmington, N. M., Gooding, Boise, Pocatello, Arco, Meridian, Challis, Blackfoot, Cortez, Colo., Durango, Colo., and Idaho Falls. Boise holds a warrant for Martin.

Sentencing of Ray Allred, Buhl, was deferred until Friday afternoon to give District Judge Hugh A. Baker time to consider extenuating circumstances.

Allred pleaded guilty of stealing a mechanic's chest full of tools valued at $100.

Allred told the court he would make restitution of the costs and property. He added that he never had been convicted of a felony before and that he has a wife and four children to support.

None of the four men who entered guilty pleas was represented by counsel and all waived statutory time before being sentenced.

Drunken Driving Denied; Motorist Held Under Bond

Sam E. Vincent, Filer, pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned in police court Friday morning on a charge of drunken driving.

Bond was fixed at $300, and Vincent was returned to the city jail until bond is posted. No date was set for the trial.

Vincent was arrested by city police at 1:25 a.m. Friday at Fourth avenue south and Second street south. He was accompanied by Del Vincent, Filer, who paid a fine of $25 and $3 costs when he appeared in police court and pleaded guilty of being drunk in an auto.

Atom Spy Awaits Sentence

David Greenglass, 29, former army sergeant, is led into federal courthouse in New York by U. S. Deputy Marshal Eugene Fitzgerald (left) for sentencing as an atom spy. Greenglass, who pleaded guilty to espionage before the trial, was the government's chief witness against his sister, Mrs. Ethel Rosenberg, and his brother-in-law, Julius Rosenberg. Convicted with the Rosenbergs was Morton Sobell. (AP wirephoto)

Program of Food Subsidy Gains Planner Attention

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A broad food subsidy program may emerge as a solution of government problems in trying to stabilize the cost of living.

Leaders of major farm organizations said they saw such a possibility today as they prepared to battle proposals of government economic stabilization officials to tighten controls on farm product prices.

Those proposals would permit the government to set ceilings on farm prices at their Jan. 15 parity levels. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

The law now says ceilings may not be set below parity levels. But both Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston contend this provision prevents stabilization of food prizes, because many farm products are selling below parity.

Both Wilson and Johnston have indicated they may ask congress to permit ceilings to be set at parity levels as of Jan. 15. Present parity prices are higher than those of Jan. 15.

Leaders of such organizations as the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau federation, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, the National Farmers Union and the National Milk Producers federation say they will fight such a proposal.

They contend it would destroy the parity principle upon which farm porgrams of the past 18 years have been built.

These leaders expect strong support in congress, but they don't know whether it will be strong enough to head off the Wilson-Johnston proposals without farmers giving ground in other ways.

U. S. to Send 2 Air Groups To Ike Force

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP)—Two more U. S. fighter-bomber air groups will be sent to Europe soon and the bulk of the Atlantic fleet will be earmarked for Atlantic pact forces, informed sources said today.

The two additional air groups will bring to four the number assigned to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's western European defense forces.

Two groups of F-84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers already are stationed in Germany. Each group has 75 planes.

The two groups slated to go over soon may be stationed in France.

An undecided number of other American tactical air groups will follow later. The total will be at least six—one to support each of the U. S. army divisions being contributed to the Atlantic pact defense forces. It may be more, with some of the American fighter groups being assigned to support ground troops of other pact countries.

Generally overlooked in the senate troops debate of the past three months has been the need also to build up air strength.

Two of the four additional ground divisions to be sent to Europe soon are the fourth infantry at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the second armored at Ft. Hood, Tex. Two as yet unidentified national guard divisions now in training also will be sent. Two divisions are in Europe.

The two or three groups of U. S. medium bombers and one fighter group are being kept in England on a rotational basis probably will remain under control of the U. S. strategic air command in peacetime, informed sources said.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said the "majority" of warships assigned the pact forces would be American.

Experts Hold Pest Control Meeting Here

About 30 Magic Valley county agents and commercial applicators of insecticides and herbicides attended morning and afternoon sessions here Thursday conducted by Roland W. Portman, extension entomologist, on control of insects and undesirable vegetation.

An outgrowth of the meeting was the organization of the Magic Valley Crop Pest Control association. The group will plan field trips and study insect identification and control. One of the first activities will be a tour to observe a demonstration of alfalfa weevil control this spring.

Officers Named

Edsel Hale, Twin Falls, was elected chairman of the group, with C. W. Daigh, Twin Falls county agent, as secretary and ex-officio member of the executive committee. J. R. Douglas, head of the federal entomology station at Twin Falls, was also named an ex-officio member of the committee.

Other members of the executive committee are Hale, Frank Orr, Buhl; Fred Blanchard, Burley; Newell Dayley, Oakley; Max Herbolt, Rupert; Les Brown, Gooding; Melvin Gibson, Wendell.

Herbicides Discussed

Aiding in the discussion on herbicides was Howard Roylance, assistant extension agronomist.

Among the topics discussed during the afternoon by Portman were the control of quack grass and methods of killing wild oats when it is growing with farm crops.

A question and answer session on control of the alfalfa weevil featured the morning session of the school.

The best way to control alfalfa weevil is to dust with five per cent chlordane, 20 pounds to the acre, when the alfalfa is between two and four inches high. Since most feeding by weevils is done in the larva stage, best results are gained by killing the adults before they lay their eggs, Portman pointed out.

Portman said most feeding is done at the end of the first crop and at the beginning of the second. It is believed that most adults are out of hibernation when the alfalfa is between two and four inches high.

U. S., England Reported Split On Korea Aim

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Britain and the United States are reported to have split sharply over a proposed statement of Korean war aims and peace hopes. It was to have been issued here by President Truman.

While responsible informants here said today the way still was open for talks to continue, the project virtually has been abandoned so far as a statement by Mr. Truman is concerned.

What now appears more likely is an early speech by Secretary of State Acheson defining the political problems and purposes of the Korean conflict.

The difference between Washington and London is said to have come over how far to go in trying to induce the Chinese communists to open peace talks now.

Britain is said to favor an appeal for Chinese participation in peace talks while the U. S. insisted that many doors already are open to the Chinese and that the U. N. countries would not really advance by showing what Washington considers to be political weakness.

The whole affair, reflecting the considerable differences of attitude between London and Washington on far eastern policy, is involved with the widening rift between Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Washington over the conduct and broad political strategy of the Korean war.

Senate Committee Approves Plan to Stop RFC Revise

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The senate expenditures committee voted today to approve a resolution designed to block President Truman's plans to put the much criticized reconstruction finance corporation under new management.

The committee announced the vote was 7 to 6, with one Democrat—Senator Robertson, Virginia—voting with a solid wall of Republican opposition to the proposed reorganization.

The vote was on a resolution proposed by Senator Capehart, R., Ind., demanding that the senate block the President's proposal to abolish jobs of the five-man RFC board of directors and place the agency under a one-man administrator.

There is strong sentiment in congress to abolish the RFC altogether.

Voting for the Capehart resolution at the committee's closed-door meeting were Senators Robertson, McCarthy, R., Wis.; Mundt, R., S.D.; Smith R., Me.; Schoeppel, R., Kans.; Dworshak, R., Ida., and Nixon, R., Calif.

The committee said its decision would be reported to the senate next week, but it has not been determined when the senate would call it to a vote.

Wilson Holds Firm On His Plan to Run Defense Mobilizing

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP)—Charles E. Wilson said today he is running the defense mobilization on a full and unsolicited grant of authority from President Truman and has no intention of quitting under fire from labor or anyone else.

The big, blunt-spoken industrialist, who holds more power over American civilian life than any man outside the White House ever wielded, told the United Press he still is ready and willing to bring organized labor back into the mobilization program on an equal footing with his top business advisers.

But he added with quiet emphasis that President Truman put full policy control over production, manpower, procurement, transportation and other mobilization activities in his hands. It is going to stay there, he said, so long as the President wants it that way.

Denies Charge

He denied forcefully labor's charge that he insisted on writing his own ticket before he accepted the mobilization job last December.

Wilson, who picked up plenty of bruises in a similar but less powerful role as vice chairman of the war production board in World war II, said Mr. Truman alerted him last summer to get ready for another "draft." The President told him then he intended to call him back into government service when and if the world crisis should force the United States to rearm.

Called to Capital

"Mr. Truman called me to Washington on a Monday morning and told me the time had come," he recalled.

"Friday noon, I called the President and said I was ready. He went over my authority again, just as he had outlined it Monday, and I said 'Write it down.'"

Wilson's normally ruddy complexion darkened and he clenched his big fists.

Lawyer Cites Details On Water Protection

Revisions of the proposed bill to authorize the Snake river project are continuing in order to reach agreement on a draft that will have the support of the department of the interior and the people of Idaho, R. P. Parry, local attorney, said Friday.

Parry has spent considerable time in Boise and Washington as a member of a delegation headed by Governor Jordan which conferred in Washington with officials of the department of the interior.

The conferences resulted in the interior department meeting four of five Idaho demands to safeguard this state's interests in connection with the project.

Water Right Protection

Details of protection of present and future water rights were given by Parry in comment upon provisions of the proposed bill and upon various proposals and counter-proposals under negotiation.

He said the delegation agreed to withdraw its demand for payment in lieu of taxes upon the condition its other four demands were met, one of which concerns protection of water rights.

The bill would authorize the Snake river project which includes the Hell's canyon dam and the Mountain Home irrigation project between Mountain Home and Boise, a project Boise irrigation interests have tried to develop for 20 years.

Relation of Projects

Parry said the bill is so drawn that power profits from Hell's canyon dam would assist in paying the costs of the Mountain Home irrigation project.

He said the language of the bill states all present upstream water rights would be protected for con-

Puerto Rican Gets Chair for Guard's Death

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Oscar Collazo was sentenced today to die in the electric chair Oct. 26 for the slaying of a White House guard in an attempt last November on the life of President Truman.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough asked whether Collazo had anything to say. Collazo said he did not want to plead for his life, but to plead for liberty for Puerto Rico.

"I am not pleading for my life," Collazo told the judge. "I'm pleading for my cause. Anything that I have done I did for the liberty of my country. I insist, even unto the end, that we have a right to be free."

Wife Stoical

Collazo's 42-year-old wife, Rosa, heard her husband doomed without any show of emotion.

Afterward she told reporters her husband's death will not weaken the cause of Puerto Rican independence "but will make it stronger."

"I will stay side by side to him," Mrs. Collazo added.

The death sentence was mandatory from a jury's verdict March 7 that Collazo was guilty of two counts of first degree murder.

[illegible] Back by New Defense Panel

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—President Truman has wooed organized labor back into the defense planning fold with membership on a 17-man advisory mobilization board.

Union leaders agreed to the proposal late yesterday after a lengthy White House conference with Mr. Truman.

The President was reported "very happy" they'd decided to take a hand. The union chiefs said they hoped the move would lead to a complete solution of the problems which started their boycott of the mobilization program five weeks ago.

Meets Monday

The board will hold its first meeting Monday. Mr. Truman is expected to attend.

The board, made up of four representatives each from labor, industry, agriculture and the public, and headed by Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, will help Mr. Truman determine defense policy.

AFL President William Green, CIO President Philip Murray, AFL Secretary-Treasurer George Meany, and Walter P. Reuther, head of the CIO United Auto Workers, probably will represent labor.

Other Choices Pend

Presidential Press Secretary Joseph H. Short told reporters the other selections for the board had not yet been indicated.

A major factor in labor's boycott of the defense agencies was their contention that Defense Mobilizer Wilson, a former president of General Electric company, allowed "big business" to dominate the defense program.

Mr. Truman apparently stilled their concern on that score by taking a tighter hold of the reins himself. Green told reporters the President would meet with the board once a month.

Body of Smith Lying in State; Session Opens

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (AP)—The body of the eighth president of the LDS church lies in state today—the 121st anniversary of this American-born religion.

Eighty-one-year-old George Albert Smith, who died on his birthday Wednesday night, two days before the church's annual general conference, will be buried tomorrow afternoon in the family plot here.

Meanwhile, sessions of the general conference will be held today, as scheduled, but the conference will be extended through Monday with Saturday devoted to the funeral services.

Primary Meet Ends

The 45th annual LDS Primary association conference which convened Wednesday, closed yesterday with an address by the church's heir apparent, David O. McKay.

McKay, president of the council of 12 apostles, will become the church's ninth president at a solemn assembly Monday morning if tradition is followed. Although the church is not bound by precedent, in the past the senior apostle of the church always has succeeded to the presidency. McKay was ordained an apostle April 8, 1906, and has served as second counselor in the church first presidency since 1934.

Condolences Continue

Condolences continued to pour into church offices from such men as Gov. Earl Warren, California; Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board for U. S. Steel, and Ambrose J. Seitz, executive vice president of Union Pacific railroad.

The funeral services Saturday will begin at 2 p. m. in the church's famed tabernacle on Temple square, half a block from the church offices where President Smith's body will lie in state today and tomorrow morning.

Jones Urges Easy Plan in School Fund

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alton B. Jones urged today that the state board of education adopt a transportation formula which is simple "in its application and administration."

The board will meet here tomorrow to study the controversy and perhaps come up with a new method of allocating state funds for transportation purposes.

Outlining six suggested formulas which might be given consideration during the deliberations, Jones urged that the board "prevent future inroads of transportation costs upon the minimum education program—the heart of which is the teaching program . . ."

Jones, in a prepared statement, said the board "should bear in mind that the formula which it adopts should not remove all further levying possibilities of school districts which desire to increase teachers' salaries by throwing the burden of shortages upon individual districts rather than the counties.

"Likewise the board should not diminish drastically the amounts receivable by districts for this next biennium from what they are now receiving unless we plan deliberately to invite statewide school district protests and opposition."

Aussie Wool Mart Hit by Big Break

SYDNEY, Australia, April 6 (AP)—The worst break in prices since the end of World war II hit the Australian wool market this week.

The fall in prices compared to those paid before Easter was: Strong comeback, 30 per cent; fine crossbred, 30 per cent, merino and fine comeback 15 to 25 per cent.

Wool brokers attributed the drop almost entirely to a concerted decision by American buyers to stop bidding at the opening of the Melbourne auctions last Monday. They said American buyers were trying to force prices down.

executive orders the powers he wanted me to use."

Wilson said labor's walkout from the mobilization program came as something of a surprise to him. But he said the biggest surprise was the angry reaction of the big union leaders when he announced that he was forming a labor advisory committee under Dr. Arthur Fleming to counsel him on manpower decisions.

Unions Protested

Labor leaders protested at the time that he was trying to strip the labor department of one of its main functions. Wilson said the row over that issue contributed largely to the present stalemate.

But he said he refused to yield on that one because he felt the labor department could not rule impartially on manpower mobilization decisions—such as deciding whether military service exemption should be granted to a given number of men in a certain industry.

"I couldn't see how the department could serve as both judge and claimant," he explained.

Repeats Offer

He repeated his offer to put a labor leader on his advisory staff on the same footing as Henry J. Weinberg, New York financier who advises him on personal matters.

Wilson refused to discuss his recommendations for changes in the defense production act, explaining that they are in President Truman's hands.

Spud Price Plan Extension Noted

Walter Reese, chairman of the Twin Falls county PMA committee, announced Friday the potato price support program has been extended from April 30 to May 31.

Although the potato support period has been extended one month, there will be no increase in the support price, he said.

The support price is $1.203 for U. S. No. 1's and 2's, two inches minimum diameter in bulk, and composition grade at the vendor's farm. U. S. No. 1 potatoes, size B, are supported at $.455, bulk and composition grade at the vendor's farm.

The chairman reminded growers their eligibility certificate states that the only time they will sell under the government support price is when they cannot receive the equivalent support price or better on commercial markets.

State Park Lots Will Be Leased; Improvement Set

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—New lots will be opened for lease at Payette lakes this summer and many improvements are planned at state parks in north Idaho, State Land Commissioner Edward Woorley said today.

About 65 new off-shore lots will be developed near McCall—45 at Pilgrim cove and 20 on the west side of the lake in Cedar Knoll Acre and Pinecrest subdivisions.

They will be leased for seven years for about $25 or $30 a year.

Woorley said he is going to Spalding park, just outside Lewiston, Monday to check on remodeling needed there.

Woorley will be at Hayburn park near Coeur d'Alene Tuesday to confer with Ray D. Nelson, park superintendent, on expansion of the park's water system and operation of the youth recreation camp.

Improvements to Lawyer's Canyon park in Clearwater county are planned, Woorley said.

Lawyer Cites Protection of Water Rights

sumptive use on an areal-ike basis as determined by state laws.

Future Rights Cited

As to protection of future rights, Parry said the bill contemplates protection of water rights for 1,113,000 acres of land with a depletion rate of two acre-feet of water per acre plus 1,233,000 acres requiring supplemental water with a depletion rate of two-thirds acre-foot per acre.

This gives a total depletion of 3,048,000 acre-feet which Parry said irrigationists believe is adequate for future growth. Depletion is the amount of water which does not return to the stream of its origin.

Other Water Terms

In addition the bill provides for use of water for domestic, industrial, municipal and stock purposes. Parry said there was an effort by the government to limit the amount of water for these purposes but the Idaho delegation fought successfully.

He remained in Washington several days after the delegation reidentified the work on details of the water right protection provisions. After he returned to Boise there were a number of phone calls, teletype messages and letters to and from Washington to negotiate on various differences.

Store Executives Make Flying Trip Here

A generally bright future for businessmen in this area is seen by W. F. Sullivan, Seattle, northwest district manager for Sears, Roebuck and company.

He and a dozen other district executives arrived at Joslin field Wednesday morning in the firm's DC-3, "The Pacific Coaster." Members of the group shuttled back and forth between here and Idaho Falls before departing for Walla Walla, Wash., Friday evening.

Sullivan looks for continued substitution of materials to free copper, steel, aluminum and other necessities for defense production. However, he said he finds the public somewhat hesitant to realize this.

The district manager said he does not believe this substitution will stop manufacture of appliances and he does not look for rationing or quotas.

Sullivan said he believes production will hold up for several months but that substitution eventually will affect the products. He cited the ban of spare tires with new cars as an indication of the serious rubber shortage.

As to taxation and its effect upon business, the district manager said he believes only one-third of the anticipated tax increase will be needed if business continues on its present high level. Business volume now is keeping taxes rolling in, he stated.

One factor he has found which is keeping business volume high is the public wishing to protect itself against future substitutions and shortages. He said he considers it only wise for the public to take those factors into consideration in its planning.

Sullivan said he is finding members of the public accumulating funds to meet down payments and current credit restrictions. There has been no sizeable increase in demand for credit and he said he is surprised at the amount of cash business.

Ray Jones, district credit manager, mentioned the firm's credit policy has two objectives—to protect the company and to be of service to the buyer in protecting him against more credit than he can handle.

Sullivan said he is pleased over the continued growth of the firm's business here, more than had been anticipated. "And naturally we wouldn't have made our investment here if we hadn't expected business," he added.

He said he considers businessmen in this area are fortunate in having an economy based upon agriculture, which maintains a steady level, instead of being dependent upon any single industry.

The district manager stated he is impressed greatly by the activities of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the caliber of its personnel.

He said he believes more publicity should be given Shoshone falls as a tourist attraction. He viewed the scenic point both from the ground and from the air during his semi-annual trip here.

The company's executives also were impressed with facilities at Joslin field. A former district manager, who used to fly his own plane here, also was enthusiastic about local airport facilities.

Money Fight Proposed on Price Spiral

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 6 (AP)—A suggestion that perhaps the government should scrap its price-wage controls and, instead, fight inflation by regulating the supply of money and credit was placed before a conference on defense policy today.

Economist Aaron Director, chairman of the three-day meeting on "the economics of mobilization," raised the issue as more than 70 government officials, economists, lawyers and business and labor leaders assembled at the Greenbrier hotel.

Questions Curbs

Director questioned whether inflation can be checked "except at its source through preventing the expansion of bank money." He added:

"If money control can stop inflation, is the other regulatory machinery necessary at all?"

The conference at which Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle will get a chance to defend the federal price ceilings policy is sponsored by the University of Chicago law school. Director is associated with the school.

Doesn't Make Sense

"There is the critical question whether our present program of controls can work at all," Director said. "For instance, does price control without rationing make any sense?"

He suggested that there are hazards in "the idea that the government must manage things." That philosophy, he said, might encourage the growth "of organized minority groups among workers and employers which will divide the country into warring camps at the very time when national unity is essential."

RACKETEERS IN BUSINESS

Americans are accustomed to tucking their criminal elements into nice, neat compartments, serene in the thought that however bad they might be they don't contaminate the rest of life.

That serenity ought to be disturbed, however, by facts now accumulating as result of the Kefauver crime inquiry and other investigations.

The evidence is unmistakable that many underworld leaders in many parts of the United States have heavily invaded legitimate business.

Frank Costello, alleged by senate investigators to be underworld king, gave the Kefauver committee some notion of his legitimate investments. He put $40,000 into a television concern, $41,000 into an oil company, thousands into real estate properties in New York and elsewhere, and still other funds into a firm making an item supposed to cook a chicken by "infra-red rays."

Other testimony suggests that mobsters have been pouring millions into hotels, liquor firms, automobile and steel-making companies, food and beverage manufacture, trucking, laundries, dressmaking.

A steel official in Detroit told the Kefauver committee a gangster helped out his firm with a $100,000 investment at a time when the company needed funds to acquire properties of another concern.

Anthony D'Anna, alleged by the committees to be Detroit head of Mafia, the Italian terrorist ring, is described as holding a half interest in the motor carrier which hauls all Ford cars from plants in the area. He's also listed as director of a bank.

But why multiply the illustrations? They are more than ample to shock us into realizing that in many parts of the U. S. economy the line between legitimacy and illegitimacy is almost rubbed out.

The mobsters' purpose is clear. First, it gives a cloak of honesty to all their nefarious underworld enterprises. When questioned, they present their legitimate front, protesting heatedly that they are honest businessmen.

Secondly, it provides a lucrative investment outlet for the millions they make in gambling, vice, racketeering and such.

All this makes them richer and muddies the waters so thoroughly that it is hard for the law ever to nail them.

How can we halt this vicious invasion of legitimate enterprise? Obviously, the honest managers of honest business owe it to themselves and the public to be eternally vigilant. They need to ask searching questions of any big investor. The prime one: "Where did the money come from?"

Laxity in this field is no more admirable in the business community than in the headquarters of the RFC or among college basketball players. The moral code exempts no one.

It would be silly to believe, though, that business firms could maintain a foolproof check on the origins of investment money of both large and small chunks. The real answer is to cut off this illegitimate flow at its course, to throttle the huge underworld operations that produce it.

Laws, new or old, can't do the whole job. The people who patronize the mobsters' enterprises must bear a good share of responsibility. So long as billions are paid out in tribute, the gangsters will flourish and have the money to worm into honest activity.

DEATH MOUNTS WITH SPEED

While the campaign against automobile accidents continues throughout Magic Valley, it might be well to set forth some glaring statistics so there will be no tendency to ease up in our efforts.

During 1950, recently compiled national statistics reveal, 3,700 MORE persons were killed and 235,800 MORE persons were injured than during 1949.

While 35,500 actually lost their lives, there's no way of telling how many among the thousands who were injured will spend the rest of their lives under physical handicaps which will rival death itself.

There is one thing we all should bear in mind: Almost 500,000 casualties in 1950 were the direct result of speeding. One out of every three Americans who lost their lives, in fact almost two out of three, met death because someone was driving too fast.

Speed has been causing a greater percentage of accidents year after year.

Traffic laws and law enforcement are part of the answer. Engineering will help. So will public cooperation.

But the real solution rests with the man behind the wheel. So long as he persists in speeding, we're going to have a horrible toll of death, here in Magic Valley and throughout the country.

FARMER KNOW-HOW

If anyone imagines the American farmer has been left in the lurch by technical progress, let him examine a few figures: With a 12 per cent smaller labor force than in 1900, he's turning out twice as much food and fiber today.

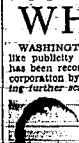

Even since 1940 farm output per man hour has shot up 38 per cent. U. S. ingenuity plainly doesn't stop at the factory door.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—A program of almost television-like publicity in the negotiation of all future loans has been recommended to the reconstruction finance corporation by Eugene Kelley as a means of preventing further scandals. Kelley is a veteran public relations consultant hired by the lending agency in the midst of the furore created by the Fulbright committee's disclosures.

Kelley's attitudes most of the organization's current difficulties to the extraordinary secrecy which has surrounded its operations from its birth during the Hoover administration.

Together with the interstate commerce commission, the RFC rarely gives out word of its decisions. When it does so, it merely states the amount of the loan and the name of the recipient.

Ray Tucker

SOUR—Most of the transactions criticized so severely by the senatorial investigators received only limited publicity or notice until a few newspaper correspondents became curious about them, and insisted on full details. This was true of both the Texmass Petroleum and the Lustron companies, which have gone sour for a total of approximately $45,800,000.

There was, of course, no public notice of loans to swank hotels, to gambling palaces, to firms employing hidden political influence, and to corporations already on the rocks.

Nor did the RFC give the names of lawyer-lobbyists, richly rewarded by government fees, who drew drawfat fees because their friendship and former connections with RFC members enabled them to obtain special favors.

"FIXER"—When Donald S. Dawson was transferred from RFC to the White House as presidential personnel director, with the now obvious purpose of helping the Truman-Boyle grip on the multi-billion-dollar agency, there was no announcement of the fact.

Until "smoked out" in this column more than a year later, Dawson secretly held down his White House official "fixer" and his crony, E. Merl Young, were men of mystery.

PUBLICITY — Secrecy undoubtedly was necessary in RFC's earlier days, but it has been carried to an unnecessary and irrational extreme, according to Kelley's confidential memorandum. Except in rare cases, he believes all hearings should be open, and that complete detail of the amount, purpose and arguments for and against a loan should be given to the press.

In the 1930s, when RFC was established to save or salvage great corporations on the brink of disaster, publicity might have been dangerous. It would have been panicky to tell the depositors and people know how near to a crack-up were the industries, railroads, banks and insurance companies in which they had placed so much trust.

CONSIDERATION—During World war II, when the agency finagged munitions factories, it was impossible to publish advances for fear of tipping off the enemy to our preparations. The same consideration will apply again, if RFC is called upon to supply funds for expansion.

But in an era of seeming prosperity, when RFC can afford to subsidize palaces of pleasure, notorious gamblers' hangouts and service trades like beauty parlors and restaurants, there is no reason, according to Kelley, why it should not let the taxpayers know what it is doing with their money.

POLICY—Herbert Hoover's friends report that the former President is satisfied fully with the reaction inside and outside congress to his controversial radio discussion of the question of rearming Europe. It had his stress he wanted and anticipated, which was to focus public attention on this radical change of foreign policy—namely, sending troops overseas in time of peace.

He believes, too, that it prompted even pro-Truman Democrats to accept the provision that, although congress agreed the shipment of four more divisions to Germany, it authorized the President—any President—to obtain prior congressional approval for the dispatch of large-scale reinforcements.

MEANING—Mr. Hoover's new mellowness is reflected in his refusal to reply to critics of his speech. Most pro-Truman writers emphasized the "American Gibraltar" aspect, insisting that he considered a withdrawal from Europe on our allies' failure to show a determination and courage to rearm and fight.

The old Hoover would have denounced this misinterpretation as a "hair-shirt" that he must wear. But when his group begged him to make a second speech clarifying his first proposal, he concluded it wasn't necessary.

In his belief, the American people, the Truman administration and congress got his meaning. And, he believes, so did our European allies.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

ALL MEN EQUAL

The new presidential order authorizing draft deferments for college students who make good showings grades to pass an aptitude test is fundamentally undemocratic and unfair. However it may be interpreted or applied, the order is based upon the fallacious theory that "bright boys" or young men who can afford to attend college should have special privileges in the matter of serving their country which are denied to the dull and the poor.

The order was issued to fill a genuine need of the armed forces and of the country. The military needs technicians and specially trained young men, and it is better to train many of them in the nation's colleges and universities than in military training schools. There is also the valid argument that the nation cannot afford to deny college training to its youth through all the long years of mobilization in prospect without risking a dismal lowering of the country's educational level.

Despite these sound arguments, however, the nation should never tell its young men that the brightest and more wealthy of them can postpone their military service while the "ordinary" boys march off to war.—Lewiston Tribune.

SUPPRESSION OF NEWS

A reader writes in from eastern Washington protesting against the publicity given by the newspapers to a recent eighth marriage of a man prominent in the public eye.

"Marriage," she writes, "is a sacred bond between God, a man and a woman. The marriage vows themselves proclaim its trials and its eternity. To publish such misuse of the marriage state is to publish adultery.

"This is an attitude of a good many people which a little thought might change. The complaint really is with the abuse of the marriage vows rather than with publication of the facts concerning it. Human life is sacred, but the newspapers publish endless reams of murders and assassinations. The more valuable the life, the greater the crime in case of murder—but the more necessary the chronicling of the fact. Multiplied sensationalism in connection with the deviation from law and moral standards involved in murders and multiple divorces, is avoided, of course, by reputable newspapers.—Portland Oregonian.

TEN AUTO IMPROVEMENTS

Wilbur Shaw, three time winner of the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis, has listed what he thinks have been the top 10 improvements in automobiles since the first horseless carriage rolled out of the shed.

And what does this fellow who cut his teeth on the steering wheel of a race car put at the head of the list? Shock absorbers!

By Shaw's score sheet, the other inventions which have made motoring easier, happier and safer are: The electric starter (1912), the all-steel body (1912), four wheel brakes (1922), ethyl gas (1924), antifreeze (1927), balloon tires (1924), shatterproof glass (1928), sealed beam headlights and shiftless transmissions (1940).

We'll go along with the Shaw list except to point out one striking omission. Of all the devices that have put America on wheels none has been more effective than the convenient, "easy payment" plan.—Atlanta Constitution.

POT SHOTS

AT IT AGAIN

Little Stevie Gilliam does his best to make life a little more interesting for his folks. You may remember that yesterday he got egg broken into Father Bob's shoe.

Now he's been painting, but with a little different angle. He watched Bob paint some chairs. Then a few mornings later, he beat the rest of the family in getting out of bed—He got a brush and found some "paint" in the refrigerator.

Bob finally stumbled out into the kitchen for his eye-opening coffee. While drinking it, he got stuck on a chair. Stevie had used raspberry juice for paint!

CLEANING PLANT

Probably every housewife knows all about this little problem, especially if there are some small children around the house. We were not too years old until we overheard a little conversation the other day.

Two women were moaning about how often they had to wash towels. One of 'em said, "The whole problem is how to convince my family that the old regular system of washing with soap and water is better than dry-cleaning."

It seems it's much easier for youngsters to dip their hands in the water and wipe the dirt off on the towel!

GOOD EATING?

Dear Potsy:

Folks have been hearing lots of things about red herrings. Now I discover that a red herring is supposed to be some sort of fish.

Why all the fuss about a mere fish? Is there something special about it or does it smell just as bad as any other fish? And is it good eating?

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Elliott Roosevelt, father of Eleanor and brother of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, died on Aug. 14, 1894. He was independently wealthy by an inheritance which he shared with his brother, Theodore, from their father, whose name was Theodore, too.

The inventory of the personal estate of Elliott Roosevelt's father filed in the probate court of New York county contained these items:

Worthwhile Parlor

Jewelry, $50; 50 shares Mexican International Mortgage bank, at $25, $1,250; $1,000 bond, Racquet and Tennis club, N. Y., $300; three $1,000 bonds, St. Paul and Manitoba, Dakota extension, six per cent, at $118, $3,540; two $1,000 bonds, Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, first mortgage, six per cent, due 1921, at $121, $2,420; two $1,000 bonds, National Starch Mfg. company, first mortgage, six per cent, due 1920, at 94, $1,880; sale of cart and tandem harness, $125; sale of Victoria and surreys, $200. Total personal estate $21,864.66.

There were deductions of $12,163.63, leaving a net personal estate of $9,843.03. This was below $10,000 so the appraiser's report to the court duly noted that therefore it was not taxable.

In the itemized account, the $50 worth of "jewelry" consisted of pathetic little items, such as "locket and chain, gold; 1 small gold ring; 4 black studs."

There were the following securities of "nominal" value: $5,000, Comstock Tunnel four per cent income bond, due September, 1919; coupon for November, 1893, and all subsequent coupons unpaid; $2,500 Central Transit company certificate of interest in 25 shares, underground railway construction; $1,000, 10 shares, N. Y. Phonograph company; $900, 18 shares ($50 each), Mercer Coal company; $10,000, 100 shares United Coal Oil and Gas company; $3,800, 72 shares ($50 each), Shenango and Allegheny Railroad company; $5,000, 50 shares Teshmaker and DeBiliter Cattle company; $1,000, 10 shares, Dutch Valley Coal and Iron company, preferred stock; $2,000, 20 shares ditto common.

The list of securities of nominal value ends here.

The estate paid $1,250 to Mrs. Evans, "housekeeper," who thus should appear to have been carried on the cuff for some time; $36 to the cook and $75 to the coachman.

There were bills for $564.85 due the Hotel Chaumont; H. W. Carter, hackman, $5; n/c (apparently a charitable contribution, of free bed in orthopedic hospital), at $62.50; W and C. Smith, fruit, $4.05; Eliza Slaughter, washing, $82.25; John M. Conroy, horse show, $97.50; Jacob Hohn, barber, $9.75; C. W. Sperry, veterinary, $2; J. B. Cook, sporting goods, $3.25; C. W. Waters, Woodbine hotel, $231.85; E. M. Knox, hats, $55; Loe and company, ice cream, $2.35; Fitzgerald Brothers, fur, $30.25; W. H. Thomson, M. D., services, $200; C. C. Tomlinson, druggist, $45.39; Racquet and Tennis club, charges, $72.81; Putnam and Sons, books, $126.95; F. O. Neill, shoes, $63.74; Knickerbocker club, $119.36; Howard and company, jewelers, $48.15; Harris and Nixon, horse goods, $3.35; Delmonico's, 70 cents; Case and company, McGowan's Pass tavern, $4.30; Charles and company, grocers, $1.31; William H. Blackwell, harness, $111.05; Brooks Brothers, livery (for servants), $61.50; J. Alexander, jewelers, $701; Samuel Budd, furnishings, $39.20; Fants and Sons, tailors, $584.01; H. Hicks, fruit, $79.81; Dixon and company, music, $4.06; John Patterson and company, tailors, $179.50.

For all his bituliosity and irresponsibility, Mr. Roosevelt seems to have been good for his debts, if tardy in the payment of some of them.

However, on Feb. 1, 1906, W. Emlen Roosevelt, the sole qualified and acting executor, represented to the surrogate's court that of the three years and upwards prior to his decease, his mental condition had been such that he was to a very considerable extent unable to manage his own affairs."

"At one time for a period extending over several months it was necessary to confine him in a room at his home in Paris," Emlen Roosevelt swore.

"For two years preceding his death, he exhibited every sign of being incompetent to take care of his affairs and showed very great extravagance and recklessness in the management of his property.

"In addition to squandering a great deal of his property, he became involved, as a stockholder, in the Sandy Ridge Coal company and the Wise County Coke company.

"I am advised that the affairs of both companies are in very bad shape, said companies have a claim against said Elliott Roosevelt and unpaid subscriptions to stock amounting in the case of the Sandy Ridge Coal company, to $15,000 and in the case of the Wise County Coke company, to $3,500. It is my intention to resist these claims by every legal means in my power."

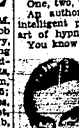

I am not able to say whether Emlen Roosevelt was successful in this project, which, in effect, would have qualified the father of the first lady of the universe as a welcher, dead-beat and mental incompetent in order to save some money.

One, two, three—rigid.

An authority claims almost any intelligent person can master the art of hypnotism in a short time.

You know what hypnotism is . . . that's the same thing that makes you sit through an Ava Gardner movie three times.

Hal Hoss

Hypnotism can be induced in a number of ways, one of which is to have the subject gaze intently at a bright object.

I hear they discovered this method when they saw Jack Benny staring at a nickel.

Hypnotism is sometimes useful in medicine. It can make the patient feel so comfortable and relaxed that even paying the doctor is painless.

Play reviewers as a group appear especially susceptible to hypnotism. Many of them fall asleep and go rigid right after the first act.

But anyone with a TV set can see hypnotism in action. Just catch Dad the next time he's watching Faye Emerson.

Berry Now Recommends Many Changes in Cassia's Schools

BURLEY, April 6—With the next regular Cassia county school board meeting scheduled for May 14, Supt. Bernell Wrigley Wednesday said board members hope by then to have reviewed the recommendations of Dr. Ray M. Berry regarding building needs for the district and to take definite action at that time.

There is a possibility meetings will be called before that time, Wrigley added.

One of the prime needs in the Cassia school system, according to Dr. Berry, is a new elementary building for Burley to be constructed on land in the Sunset addition. The land already is owned by the school district. Berry recommends that this building contain 16 class rooms, a cafeteria, and a multi-purpose room to be used as an auditorium and playroom.

The construction of the new elementary building will help solve the problem at the high school, now overcrowded, since seventh grade pupils would attend elementary schools rather than go to the high school building.

The present Burley high school building is unsuited for anything except a high school building so no consideration should be given to the construction of a high school at this time, the report said. Removing the seventh grade from the high school building will alleviate crowded conditions.

Berry recommended additional construction at both Oakley schools. At present elementary classrooms are over-crowded 29 per cent beyond capacity. It is possible that two more classrooms can be provided in the elementary building, he said.

In addition, an auditorium should be constructed in some area adjacent to the present elementary building and a gymnasium should be provided for the Oakley high school.

A new high school building at Malta also was recommended by Berry. This should contain regular classrooms, a science room, home-making rooms, a combined library and study hall and a gymnasium. The present plant at Malta is inadequate for both the high school and the elementary school. The gymnasium is too small for high school games, and the old building on the east should be abandoned. Shop facilities are adequate and the present building will take care of the elementary school, he said. The frame construction on the north part of the elementary wing of the present building should be abandoned, he added.

Other parts of the report said: If Southern Idaho College of Education is closed, it will be easier to transport kids and Almo high school students who now go to Albion to Malta, and these high school pupils left in Albion should be transported to Burley. The district will have to provide an elementary school at Albion. If the present building cannot be used for this purpose, two high school building should be used until such time as the needs in Albion area can be determined accurately.

"If a high school is to be continued at Declo, considerable money will be needed to provide the necessary special facilities. There is no adequate science room, no space for home economics, no band room, and the physical education facilities are in a building not owned by the school district.

"There is, however, little to justify this expenditure with the short distance to Burley. The high school pupils can be transported to Burley where they can receive a much better balanced education than will be possible at Declo. The present building at Declo will provide enough space for a good elementary school."

Tension Runs High on New Arab-Jew Rift

TIBERIAS, Israel, April 6 (AP)—Tension ran high along the Israeli-Syrian border near here today as the battle spread into Syrian "mopping up" retaliate at any time for last night's bombing of their troops by Israel's air force.

The Jews bombed troop concentrations just over the Syrian border and in the demilitarized zone near the sea of Galilee, they said, in reprisal for the killing by Syrian shots of seven Israeli policemen Wednesday.

Border Alert

The whole border here along the Galilee sea appeared to be in a state of preparedness. United Nations observers here to supervise observance of the 1948 Arab-Jew armistice took a most serious view of the situation and expressed fear their staff was not sufficient to insure preservation of peace.

The Israeli bombing, it was reported, caused minor damage to the border center of El Hamma, the village of Babel Hadid and Syrian positions in those areas.

Reinforcements Sent

It was also reported, however, that Syrian reinforcements were being sent to the El Hamma area.

In Tel Aviv an official Israeli spokesman said the bombing had been "completely successful." He listed as targets the El Hamma police station and "a number of fortified positions a few meters inside Syrian territory proper, from where the Israeli policemen were fired on and killed."

Livestock Market Reported Steady

BURLEY, April 6 — The Burley Livestock Commission company reported sales here today and Thursday with all classes barely steady because of unsettled market conditions.

Whitefaced grain fed steers were sold at $32.50 to $34; whitefaced heifers $32 to $33.60; grain fed whitefaced cows $24 to $27.50; heifery kind up to $30.

Whitefaced cows and calves brought $206 a pair; fed Holstein steers $28 to $30.50; Holstein feeder steers $28 to $30; stocker Holstein steers and calves $22 to $33; odd head up to $40. Not enough whitefaced steers and heifer calves offered to test the market.

Canner and cutter cows brought $17 to $25, the latter prices for the good light Holstein kind; bulls $27.50 to $29.40; hogs, 190-235 pounds, $21.50 to $22.10.

Shorn ewes with 110 per cent lambs sold at $37.50 a head; not enough fat or feeder lambs were offered to make a market. Horses brought three cents a pound and up.

Ruling Issued on Pay for Justices

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—The attorney general's office has ruled that it is discretionary with the board of county commissioners whether it pays salaries to justices of the peace conducting a small claims court.

"In the event a salary is paid it is in addition to and not in lieu of fees charged by the justice of the peace," assistant Atty.-Gen. Blaine F. Evans said.

The opinion had been requested by Frank R. Friesen, justice of the peace at Rupert.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Case

Raymond E. Mitchell filed suit for divorce in district court Thursday against Minona Mitchell charging his wife with cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple was married June 7, 1947, at Quartzsite, Ariz., and has two small children who are with Mrs. Mitchell in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mitchell claims that his wife left him Dec. 23, 1950. His attorneys are Rayborn and Rayborn.

Trans-U. S. Hop in "No Time" Predicted by Airline President

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—Leave New York City at noon eastern standard time, arrive in Los Angeles at noon, Pacific standard time, with no loss of business time.

That was the picture sketched for 1976 by W. A. Patterson, president of United Air lines.

Airline speeds have gone from 90 miles to 300 miles per hour in the past quarter century of commercial flying and may be expected to jump from 300 to 1,000 miles per hour in the next 25 years, Patterson said in a speech here last night.

The occasion was observance of United's 25th birthday. It's predecessor, Varney Air lines, began service April 6, 1926, from Pasco, Wash., through Boise to Elko, Nev.

"The next development in commercial airliners will be turbo-prop power with speeds of 380 miles per hour within the next five years. The turbo-prop airliner will be superseded by jet airliners which can be expected to attain speeds approximating 600 miles per hour within the next decade," Patterson said. He added:

"While no one can predict the airplane of 1976, it is within the realm of possibility that atomic energy will power 1,000-mile-per-hour airplanes by the end of the next quarter century."

Later on he said that by the end of the next 25 years "coast-to-coast schedules of three hours elapsed time will be a reality."

Patterson said United has grown from an organization of 19 employes when it started 25 years ago to 10,000 employes today with routes extending 12,000 miles compared with the 400 miles when it began.

He lauded the pioneer pilots of the early years and the accomplishments of engineers whose work made possible modern plane performance.

Along with the engineering developments came business improvements, he said, adding that in the first three months of 1951 United made its first peacetime winter profit.

Patterson told the Chamber of Commerce banquet that April 20 United is putting into effect schedule increases representing a 28 per cent expansion over 1950. It also plans to start service with the first of its new DC-6B 58-passenger transports on which delivery is starting, he said.

He said 30 Convairs, 44-passenger twin engine planes, are on order for 1952.

KIMBERLY, April 6—The first aid class which has been instructed by C. O. Smith completed training Thursday. Twenty-five persons took the work.

Lawmen Confer

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—State Rep. H. Max Hanson, D., Camas, and Camas County Sheriff John L. Hirsch conferred with state law enforcement officials yesterday. Hanson said the conference was on "traffic problems."

Carey Man Is Hurt as Two Cars Collide

SHOSHONE, April 6 — Two cars were nearly demolished but only one person was injured slightly in a collision involving the vehicles and a tractor one mile east of Shoshone on the Shoshone-Richfield highway at 8:06 p. m. Thursday.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Russell Rogers and Lloyd Albright, cars driven by Ray C. Foreman, Boise, and Lawrence Wilde, Carey, collided as Foreman swerved toward the center line to avoid hitting a tractor traveling without lights. Floyd Casto, Shoshone, was driver of the tractor.

The Foreman vehicle and the tractor were traveling east and Foreman told investigating deputies he did not see the tractor until he was upon it. As Foreman attempted to pass between the tractor and the west-bound Wilde car, the two automobiles crashed headon.

The tractor did not overturn, according to the deputies.

Wilde was taken to a Shoshone physician's office for treatment of bruises. His wife, the only passenger in the accident, was not injured.

No charges have been filed against Casto.

Buhl Resident Is Claimed by Death

BUHL, April 5—Mrs. Lucy Weaver, 77, died at 9:30 p.m. Thursday at her home at 601 Eleventh avenue north. She had been a resident of Buhl 33 years.

Mrs. Weaver was born April 30, 1873, near Piney Creek, N. C. She married Felix J. Weaver Aug. 1, 1891, in North Carolina and they moved to Buhl in 1916. She was a member of the Buhl Baptist church.

Mrs. Weaver was preceded in death by her husband in March, 1943. Survivors include three children, Mrs. Eva White, Sacramento, Calif.; Mrs. Mable Sargeant and Bob Weaver, both route 4, Buhl, and five grandchildren.

The body rests at the White mortuary, Twin Falls, pending the arrival of relatives.

Small Blaze Put Out at Warehouse

A small fire at the rear of Harper's potato warehouse, 324 Fourth avenue south, was extinguished Thursday by employes before the fire truck arrived, city firemen reported.

The blaze started at 2:20 p.m. between the railroad tracks and the warehouse loading platform in refuse dumped from an all stove. Cause of the fire was not known.

Addition of 3 to Divorce Action Is Asked in Petition

A motion to add three persons as cross-defendants and an amended answer and cross-complaint were included Thursday in the filings in a divorce suit involving Paul A. Warberg and Helen Warberg, Twin Falls.

The court action was begun by the husband who in turn is being sued for divorce. Both charge the other is guilty of cruelty.

In Thursday's pleadings, Mrs. Warberg asks that her husband's sons, John and Carl, and his father, William Warberg, be included as cross-defendants on the grounds they are necessary parties to determine a controversy over property rights which she estimates to be worth $85,000. A hearing on the motion has been called for 10 a.m. April 13.

Along with a divorce, Mrs. Warberg, in her amended cross-complaint, asks $250 per month temporary and permanent alimony, $1,250 suit money, $1,500 for Mrs. Warberg's support and possession of two parcels of property in Twin Falls. Her attorney is Lawrence B. Quinn.

Heavier Sales of Seeds Predicted

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—Grower sales of field seeds from last year's Idaho crops were expected to be considerably heavier than from the 1949 crop.

The U. S. department of agriculture predicted sales from the 1950 crop would include 78,700 bushels of alfalfa; 197,200 bushels of red clover and 36,700 bushels of alsike clover.

Sales from the 1949 crop included 48,900 bushels of alfalfa, 163,000 bushels of red clover and 33,000 bushels of alsike clover.

Growers said the bulk of their seed, with the exception of Austrian peas would be sold through dealers and cooperatives.

Old-Age Help Law Publicity Termed Need

BOISE, April 6 (AP)— The state public assistance department will have to conduct an intensive information campaign to advise old-age recipients of their rights and obligations under the new lien law passed by the 1951 legislature.

That is what Bill Child, commissioner of public assistance, said at conclusion of a three-day conference of district supervisors of the public assistance department.

Child said county supervisors also must confer with their local probate judges to determine their duties and responsibilities under the new adoption law. It provides that the public assistance department must submit a full report to the probate judge within 30 days of each application for adoption of a child by non-relatives.

The new lien law provides that old-age recipients owning property after July 1 must execute a lien in favor of the state to be used as security for recovery of assistance given them by the state.

The first Christian Science school was built in 1895 to seat 1,000 people, but an extension built in 1905 enlarged seating capacity to 5,000.

Low Class of Books Flayed In LDS Talk

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6 (AP)—David O. McKay, heir apparent to the LDS church presidency, has assailed "too many low-class pamphlets and books floating among our young people today."

McKay addressed the closing sessions of the LDS Primary association's 48th annual conference.

"Do not attempt to develop in children a taste for the best in literature as in life," said the second counselor in the LDS first presidency.

McKay, president of the council of 12 apostles, is presiding authority in the church as the result of the death of President George Albert Smith. By tradition, McKay will be named the next LDS president.

He also pointed out the virtues of motherhood in his talk before the primary teachers and workers.

"Too many selfish mothers are saying to their unborn children 'not wanted,'" he declared. "Someday the realization of such refusal and failure may overwhelm them. It may be too late, opportunity rejected, a privilege lost forever. But children are here in the church, thank heavens, in goodly numbers.

Water Expert Raps Present Stream Plans

CINCINNATI, April 6 (AP)—The Izaak Walton league of America was warned yesterday that water shortages have occurred and will continue to develop unless there is drastic revision of present water resources programs.

The warning came from Arthur H. Carhart, Denver, noted conservationist and authority on water resources. He spoke at the league's annual convention here.

"This nation has reached a point," he said, "where the conflicting, patchwork, competitive activities of all agencies and interests must be pulled together in a basic water use plan. Water shortages have occurred. Others will develop under the present situation."

Blames Old Laws

The speaker said one of the worst factors in present day water practices stems from "archaic state and federal laws."

He offered a set of principles on which he said future water management must rest.

One was that no one use be allowed a monopoly of water wealth to the exclusion of other uses. He declared such a situation is occurring in more arid states of the west.

Another principle that must be followed, Carhart said, is that those gaining the right to use water must not damage or destroy its value.

State Rivalries

"As an example," he continued, "water pollution without treatment to render it fit for re-use is a crime against the entire public and must be considered as such."

"Wildlife and recreational values that rest on water resources, and you will find that the letters run said, "must be recognized as valid claimants for consideration in all water management planning, and must be assured such recognition by practice and statute."

Scouters in Camas Meet in Fairfield

FAIRFIELD, April 6 — Camas county Scouts met Tuesday at an air explorer building for their monthly district meeting and roundtable with R. Frostenson and Leroy Packham in charge.

Reports on special unit activities, plans for summer camp and plans for camporee were discussed. Albert Thurber, adviser of squadron 34, reported that his explorer Scouts and Scouts of troop 34 plan a scrap iron drive as soon as road conditions improve. Another project to be taken on later during the summer will be raising pheasants for game department.

Foster Funk and Ralph Jensen reported on the executive board and council camping committee meeting they attended in March and discussed improvements needed at Camp Lightfoot.

The next district meeting on May 1, weather permitting, will be an outdoor meeting so Scouters can practice campcraft in preparation for camporee later in month.

Somebody Cornered the Hot Potato Market

Hank Scans Letters Sections, Gets Irked by What He Finds

By HENRY McLEMORE

Observations from the observation car by a man who is riding coach: If when I die I am given the chance to return to earth I shall choose to come back as the letters section of most magazines and a lot of newspapers.

This is a place where you are praised nine to one. The letters section is where a man or a magazine can blow his own horn without benefit of musical or physical instruction. Somebody blows it for him, and good and loud, too.

McLemore

If you doubt me turn to the letters section of most magazines, and you will find that the letters run something like this: "Never in my life have I been so thrilled by your fair, impartial, objective, unbiased treatment on why skyscrapers love one another, in your April 5 issue, by Smoking Roscoe. You have done a great public service, and if we were hats down in this section of the country, we would lift them to you. Enclosed find check for 3,000 years' subscription."

As another example you will find this sort of thing very common too. "Who is Benjamin Tricycle? We have never heard of him before until his story about how Jessica Catnip ignored her banker father to marry Barton Fumms and settled down in a house built completely of sagebrush, which made us happy about living in a house of sagebrush. Could you run a picture of author Tricycle in an early issue. Because everyone in this idiotic family would like to see what he looks like. Sincerely——."

The editors of magazines who run these letters sections are not completely without the ability to get nauseated by what they are doing. They prove it by dropping an unfavorable letter every once in a while into these acres of praise. This, I presume, is to show that even magazine editors are human and do not shoot par all the time. But it is my observation that the letters of criticism are very short indeed, as if written by midgets with a postoffice pen. They go about like this:

"For 18 years I have read your periodical with great interest, and this is the first time I have found anything to fault with in it. In describing Milwaukee you mention Elm street when you mean Oak street, and I do wish you would be more careful in mentioning the streets in Milwaukee."

As for the matter of columns, I never could and never will understand why a columnist, writing to a literate audience, feels it necessary to remind them of the earthquaking scoops he has scored. If they have any sense at all they remember these things, and if they have no sense they will take no recognition of a second notice. What I am trying to say is they either have brains or don't have brains. You read things like this in columns: "The papers say today that Arthur Silverware will marry a Bolivian beauty next week in Great Falls, Mont. No news to me. I told you as long ago as 1906 that this couple was a-fruitin' and a-fumin' and was going to get together in the marital traces."

"Yolande Kefauver, member of the dance team of Yolande and Kefauver is spending her vacation at the home of her parents. Lots of people said she wouldn't take any vacation at all, but as long ago as yesterday afternoon I predicted that she would spend in with momma and poppa."

"Joe Jones is en route to the coast. Albany is the capital of New York state. Hans Wagner was a shortstop."

Things like this are scoops. Very few people knew that Joe Jones was going to the coast. I daresay nobody cared, save his wife, and the American and TWA airlines.

Scoops like that come cheap. Come so cheap that even I, a newspaperman who owns the record of never having uncovered one, can produce a few myself.

For example. I am going to bed tonight at five minutes past 12 and I defy anybody but myself to know that. My wife likes her shoulder blades rubbed before she goes to bed, a task that bores me beyond belief, but which I perform faithfully each St. Ohrispin day. See how easy it is.

AEC Defends Its Actions in Truck Buying

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The atomic energy commission (AEC) has told congress it saved more than $1,000,000 by buying war surplus trucks from a private dealer—even though it paid the dealer about 14 times as much as the trucks cost him.

Chairman Gordon Dean of AEC, in a letter to the senate-house committee in atomic energy, confirmed the report given a house committee Tuesday by Morris Green, a Chicago truck dealer.

He said the commission paid $1,292,200 for 358 trucks urgently needed in the construction program at its Hanford project at Richland, Wash.

Rest too Slow

The deal with Green Brothers enterprises, he wrote, was made in 1948 only after it was learned that needed vehicles could not be obtained from any sources in time to meet the Hanford operations' office delivery requirements.

Green told a house expenditures subcommittee headed by Representative Bonner, D., N. C., his firm acquired about 1,000 trucks from the Philippine government at a cost of about $300,000—$250 each.

Made $425,000

He also related that he and three associates made about $425,000 on the business after paying out about $325,000 in commissions, fees, lawsuits settlement and legal expenses.

Dean told the atomic energy committee the AEC paid the navy $6,300 apiece for 50 trucks and had gotten a bid of $6,610.59 from a Yakima, Wash., firm for additional trucks before buying from the Green Brothers.

Dean's report was made at the request of Chairman McMahon, D., Conn., following the publicizing of Green's house committee testimony.

23 Given Lash For Violating School Ruling

VERONA, Miss., April 6 (AP)—A high school superintendent whipped 23 students who violated his orders not to picket the three school board trustees who want him ousted.

Afterwards the boys and girls were a little sore—but not at Supt. O. O. Bobo.

Pretty, 16-year-old Kitty Dickerson admitted they felt they had a licking coming for violating Bobo's instructions but "we love him still even though we did deserve it."

Seek Ouster

Three members of the trustee board are seeking Bobo's ouster, two want him to stay.

In addition, 48 of the high school's 60 students signed a petition asking that he remain.

Against Bobo's orders last Monday, 23 students piled into cars and drove four miles to Tupelo to picket the offices of the anti-Bobo trustees.

3 Licks Each

The next day Bobo called each of the disobedient students into his office one by one. The boys got three licks each with a rubber fibre strap, the girls one.

Fred Austin, basketball star, said later, "none of the kids said anything after the lickings about Mr. Bobo. They still like him."

Oh yes, the three board members seeking to force Bobo's ouster complain that he doesn't maintain discipline.

DELIVERIES ARE

GETTING SLO

We are hearing that some manufacturers have curtailed shipments to the point of almost complete stoppage. Others have slowed down to a fraction of their past output. This has certainly become true in many of the lines we handle—and from what we can hear supplies could get even tighter. This condition is hitting irrigation equipment, motors, domestic pressure systems, tanks, pipe.

Last fall it looked to us like the dealer who had it in stock this spring would be the dealer who would sell it. Accordingly we ordered turbines and pressure systems far beyond normal needs . . .

Now We're Glad We Did It!

Our yard is loaded with stock—equipment that can't be easily obtained from manufacturers this spring.

Chances are you can find pumping equipment to fit your job right in our yard. Can you afford to take chances on slow deliveries?

Yes Sir!

- We Probably Have It In Stock.

- Experienced Men and Good Installation Equipment Are Available to Do Your Work.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

One of the complaints about a failing pupil we hear most frequently is that he can do the work but he won't concentrate. Concentration means attention fixed on an idea. Anybody interested in an idea concentrates upon it without effort. Anybody who is not interested in an idea will very soon turn his attention elsewhere. He cannot help it. He cannot hold his mind on what his mind refuses to take.

When a teacher or parent says that about a pupil you can be sure that for some reason or other the child cannot do the work he is being asked to do up to the standard required. He tires quickly when asked to do work that is beyond his ability. Everybody does. Our problem is to discover what ability he has where it fails, and then work to help him increase his ability, widen his understanding, and so enable him to do the work.

I know that often a mental test shows that the failing pupil has a high IQ. The high IQ is not the answer. It is possible for a child to have an intelligence quotient of genius rating and still fail in certain fields of schoolwork, sometimes in all of them. An IQ that cannot be harnessed to actual conditions, cannot be made to serve one's purpose, is useless, even a hinderance because it leads people to expect too much from its misguided owner.

Nobody is more miserable than the child who is told that he can if he will, and then finds he knows inside himself that he cannot do as these older people say he can. He does not know why but he knows he cannot. He is terrified in his attempts. Instead of hammering him to come up to expectations, we might better spend our wits on learning what his possibilities are, what his weaknesses are, and lay out a plan for strengthening him and teaching him.

Always we must remember that everybody is not endowed with ability to rise to the top of the heap. Some will always be in the middle group, a few always at the bottom. If each does his best, that is all he should be asked for. To know that the strength a soul needs is born in it. It is not for us to declare in what direction that strength shall be directed. It is our duty to find that strength and help to direct it so that it can come to fruition.

Every child without exception wants to win the approval of his family, his teachers and his schoolmates. If he is failing he needs the skilled, understanding help of a wise teacher.

Stammering is sometimes caused by fear, shock or just too much to be expressed over the shallow speech tract. Dr. Patri explains what causes stammering and what to do about it in leaflet P-6 "Stammering." To obtain a copy, send 3 cents in coin to Mrs. Ruth Tipper-News, P. O. Box 99, Station O, New York 18, N. Y.

Idaho Readers Invited to Send for New Free Western Recipe Book

A survey of radio and newspaper home economics authorities to determine the most popular recipes of Western homemakers has resulted in one of the most usable and unique recipe books yet published.

Titled "Favorite Western Recipes" this colorful 16-page booklet is offered free to readers of this newspaper by the Morning Milk people. (See instructions below.)

Unique Features

An unusually attractive feature of this book is that it is serviceable both to the homemaker who likes the booklet type of recipes as well as to those who prefer the five-by five-inch card type recipe file. Three recipes are shown on each page, with suggestions on the best ways to serve each—dishes to serve with the main recipe, plus party suggestions and other ideas to help make the complete meal more delicious.

Dotted lines around each recipe show you where to cut so that they will fit into your recipe card file, if you so wish.

Furthermore, recipes included are not the fancy, dainty dishes that you make once in a blue moon, but are good old standbys that you'll want to serve your family often.

How to Get

To get your free copy, merely address a penny postal card or letter to Morning Milk, P. O. Box 176-F, Salt Lake City, Utah. Ask for "Favorite Western Recipes" will be sent to you by return mail entirely without cost or obligation.

And here are two ideas to help you save money on your favorite recipes: (1) When a recipe calls for milk, use Morning Milk diluted with an equal amount of water. This restores Morning Milk to whole milk strength, even richer than our state-standard requirement for milk. You enjoy a saving of approximately 25%.

(2) When a recipe specifies cream, not thick, fancy dishes but—use as it comes from the can. Morning Milk is so rich that it whips easily, yet costs up to 75% less than whipping cream.

Dent in Boom—but No Bust

Two booming U. S. industries, housing and autos, will be cut back sharply during 1951. But compared to yearly output prior to 1950's skyscraper peaks, production of these two durables will still remain high. These newscharts show the trend in auto production and home building since 1920, with an estimate of the 1951 output in each industry. Uncertainties of war and the "blitz" that restrainers of materials mar predictions of the future, but figures of 850,000 homes and three 5,000,000 to 4,500,000 autos for 1951 are best guesses of experts. Data are from the commerce department, National Industrial Conference board and Pacific Finance Automotive Digest.

Missouri Visitor to Britain Believes U. S. System Is Best

VANDALIA, Mo., April 6 (AP)—Take it from Abraham Lincoln Kilby, the British can't be beat for hospitality. But as far as their socialist government is concerned, give him the American competitive system.

That's what the 58-year-old rural mail carrier told the home folks who forked out $1,303 so he could go to the United Kingdom and get a first-hand report on socialism.

The Business and Professional Men's club had argued about the British system. They picked Kilby, as American as his given name, to find out because of his interest in current events.

The trip received a modest send-off from this Missouri town of 2,000 persons, but created a furore in Britain. Kilby was received as an ambassador and spent seven well-publicized weeks tramping the streets of London and provincial towns gathering his facts.

He delivered the prepared report on socialism at a public meeting of the Vandalia club.

"Greater hospitality than that shown me while I was there I have never known," said Kilby, who delivers mail to farmers on a 48-mile rural route out of this Missouri town.

"The social gains that have been made in Britain are good to a certain extent," he said. "But the economic policies, if practiced or continued long enough, will lead to utter economic collapse because incentive and private initiative will have been destroyed.

"We must have the competitive system because it supplies the necessary, constant urge to spur inventive minds of men to meet the challenge."

The Missourian predicted that the British ultimately will solve their problems.

"The morals of their government seem to be higher than ours," he said. "At least, I didn't hear anything about fur coats, deep freezes and the like changing hands on No. 10 Downing street while I was there."

No. 10 Downing is the British "White House."

Kilby conceded there was a "great deal of difference in the needs" of Britain and the United States.

Kilby said he returned to Missouri March 17 more than ever in love with our system, but cautioned against surrendering powers of the individual to the state. He said:

"Why not let everyone be free, free to do everything he wants to do so long as he doesn't interfere with the rights of others? Freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of conduct and freedom of press—if we lose freedom of the press we are sunk—I do not believe any nation in the world has ever enjoyed as many freedoms as we have."

Panel Picked For Work on Scholarships

NEW YORK, April 6—Selection of three Boise residents as a committee to interview Idaho candidates for the $2,100 per year scholarship to Root-Tilden university school of law was announced last night by Dean Russell D. Niles.

Plan Explained

Dean Niles said the proposal is to offer each year scholarships of $2,100 each, $1,500 for living expenses and $600 for tuition, to two men in each of the 10 federal judicial circuits in the United States. The awards will enable 20 young men who show promise of becoming "outstanding lawyers in the grand American tradition" to attend the law school.

Awards will be made in open competition to the candidates who rank highest in three fields. Candidates will compete on a rating of one-third each for potential capacity for unselfish leadership, extra-curricular activities and scholarship.

To Get Interviews

Candidates chosen from Idaho will be interviewed by a committee for the ninth federal judicial circuit consisting of Chief Justice William Denman and Brayton Wilbur, federal reserve bank chairman, both San Francisco, and Ernest Boyd MacNaughton, president of Reed college, Portland.

The scholarship is named for Elihu J. Root, advocate of world peace through law, and Samuel J. Tilden, who smashed the Tweed ring.

Scouters to Meet

BUHL, April 6—The monthly district meeting and Scouters roundtable for the Buhl-Castleford area will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Buhl city hall with J. J. Brennan and Ross Prather in charge.

Reason

DENVER, April 6 (AP)—After a patient died, a Colorado doctor listed these causes on a death certificate sent to the state health department: Pneumonia, exposure, alcoholism, senility, malnutrition and a heart ailment.

The department asked him to specify which apparently was the direct cause of death and which contributory. This reply came yesterday:

"Alcoholism led to poverty. The welfare department gave him too little to keep him alive and that he spent for booze. Lack of coal led to freezing in a shack too cold for a hog. Pneumonia mercifully put an end to his long life in hell and sent him back to heaven where he came from."

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB GILLIAM

Major league baseball teams for the most part, have broken camp and are on their way back to their home towns playing exhibition games along the way. It won't be long now until the season starts for the American and National leaguers.

Everyone likes to be a prognosticator in sports. So, taking a cue from our old friend, Major Amos Barnaby Hoople, we are presenting our selections on how they will finish some next September. Hoople will be trotting his selections out into the open in a few days now, so we are beating him to the punch.

Last year we selected the Boston Red Sox to win the American league pennant and the Philadelphia Phils to cop the National league flag. The Red Sox finished second and the Phils surprised the sporting world and the Brooklyn Dodgers by finishing first.

Judging from reports, exhibition game results, manpower and a lot of hunches, we are picking the New York Yankees to repeat in the American league and win the world championship again. It is safe to stick with a winner.

We have deserted the Boston Red Sox—given up on them completely—although on paper the team town bums look like the most powerful club in the circuit. As long as they have the problem child, Ted Williams, we doubt if they win, even if Ted hits over the .400 mark again.

Our selections to place Boston in third place behind Cleveland, a club that should come to life with a new manager, Al Lopez, at the helm. Cleveland should give the Yanks a real hustle for the pennant.

Detroit should finish fourth, in our book, followed in order by Washington, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia A's and St. Louis. Those lowly Browns will give the Athletics a blow for blow battle for seventh place.

Over in the senior loop, celebrating its 75th anniversary this year, we have to go along with Leo Durocher's New York Giants for first place. This is probably the prediction that will raise the eyebrows of a lot of readers.

Durocher, who in our book should have been dropped on his head or from baseball a long time ago, nevertheless can produce winners. He did it at Brooklyn and he has been building rapidly since his move across town a couple of seasons back.

The Giants probably have the best pitching in the league, a sound infield and a handful of hard hitting outfielders. What other combinations do you need?

If Brooklyn's pitching holds up, the Dodgers are picked from this corner to finish second. With Branch Rickey out of the picture, things could happen in Dodgertown to a point where they could overtake the Giants in the stretch.

Philadelphia is picked to finish third this year. The Bums has cut too deep into this team of youngsters for a repeat, although the club still probably will be the sentimental favorite of a majority of fans.

Boston should plug along and finish fourth, followed in order by the deteriorating St. Louis Cardinals, improving Chicago Cubs, mediocre Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Yes, we're picking Pittsburgh to finish last, Rickey or no Rickey. The old mahatma has described himself as the world's greatest baseball genius. Maybe so, but we're still picking his club for last. Wait and see.

If the Yanks and the Giants win, remember, we told you so, but if they finish out of the picture, quickly contribute this copy of the T-N to the next Boy Scout paper drive.

Idaho Gets Good Start in Defense Of NCAA's Title

EAST LANSING, Mich., April 6 (AP)—Two of last year's champions and a couple of lads who are figured as possible champions, stirred up the long opening day of the NCAA boxing tournament Thursday. And at the end of the 30-bout double session that list of contenders for the team title had been reduced from a dozen to only four or five.

Leonard Walker, Idaho, and Ell Thomas, Gonzaga, winners last year who have advanced to heavier classes, both turned in outstanding first-day performances. The third returning champ, light-weight Everett Conley, Washington State, drew a bye into Friday's semi-finals.

Walker, seeking his third NCAA title, got up off the floor to whip Gordon Peresich, Louisiana State 155-pounder, and reverse the result of their previous meeting. Peresich also was on the floor before the tussle ended.

Thomas, shooting for the 165-pound title had too much skill and experience for Bobby Collins, Michigan State. Bobby's determination and his roundhouse right made things strenuous for a while.

As predicted, all of the 165-pound bouts turned out to be real windings, and the light heavyweights came up with a pair of standouts, Michigan State's 175-pounder, Chuck Spelser, who regarded as the best in the field and he proved far too good for George Pelonis of California. Then Mill McMoore, rugged Minnesota Negro, belted Charles Spann of South Carolina around in an authoritative manner.

By winning his second bout of the day, welterweight Gerald (Jet) Black gave Michigan State a slender lead in the team race. After whipping Bill Spinks of California in the afternoon, Black returned late in the evening to turn back highly regarded Norman Walker of Idaho.

After 20 bouts had reduced the field to four finalists in each division, Michigan State had collected five points through preliminary victories and had four men still left in action. Wisconsin close behind, had four points but five semi-finalists, due to a bye. San Jose State also had four boxers remaining but only three points to share third place with Idaho and Minnesota. Such good teams as Louisiana State, Syracuse and Penn State had been knocked out of the title race.

The upsets weren't so sensational except in achieving results. Chunky, crew-cut George Fuller of Maryland wiped out two previous losses by outpointing Evans (Black Ice) Howell, Louisiana State heavyweight in the final bout. And lightweight Jackie Davis of North Carolina, turned back favored Paddy Garver, Idaho State.

Davis, a lanky, sharpshooting senior, won by a 3-2 decision over Garver, a hardhitting sophomore who fought at 145 pounds through most of the year and was runner-up intercountain tournament 135-pound title.

Idaho produced a third winner when Frankie Davis of Rexburg easily outpointed Sam Marino, Penn State, 125 pounder. Washington State broke into the winning column for the first time when Jerry Williams Jack Melson pounded out an easy victory over bloody-nosed Ed Wagonlander, Michigan State.

Results included:

133 pounds—Charles Davis, South Carolina, outboxed Paddy Garver, Idaho State.

139 pounds—Leonard Walker, Idaho university, outpointed Gordon Peresich, Louisiana State.

156 pounds—Larry Morey, Idaho, outpointed Eugene Ekzarl, Michigan Tech.

147 pounds—Everett Conley, Washington State, outpointed Bobby Collins, Michigan Tech.

Heavyweight—Ralph Rasch, Wisconsin, outpointed Hugh Christianson, Washington State.

148 pounds—Gerald Black, Michigan State, outpointed Norm Walker, Idaho.

Matthews May Fight Layne This Summer

SEATTLE, April 6 (AP)—Manager Jack Hurley said Thursday that Harry (Kid) Matthews might have summer fights with Sugar Ray Robinson and Rex Layne.

He described them as possibilities. Layne is the promising Utah heavyweight.

Among the possibilities, Hurley said, was that Boise might be the scene of a major fight by his flatic pride.

Hurley said Matthews apparently has been cut out of a chance at Joey Maxim's light-heavyweight title.

"Instead of risking his title against Matthews," said the man who has led the former Army sergeant to the nation's top flight ranks, Jack Kearns has signed Maxim to meet a "house fighter," Bob Satterfield in June. But I don't think that bout will ever take place, either. I think Joey is too heavy to risk his weight again. I think Kearns will sign for a heavyweight title bout with Ezzard Charles."

Hurley indicated he is planning a summer campaign for Matthews in the limelight that he gained by his recent Madison Square Garden victory over Irish Bob Murphy.

Hurley said there have been a rash of bids for a return Matthews-Murphy bout.

He said any return to the Garden before June 1 was out of the question.

The garden is tied up with a television-radio contract that makes it possible for its promoters to survive if they don't draw a thing at the gate. Matthews got about $7,000 for his bout with Murphy—25 per cent of the gate and $2,250 from television—and we can't expect more there until TV contracts are rewritten."

Idaho Obtains Pro Star to Start Drills

MOSCOW, April 6 (AP)—Jerry Williams, football player with the professional Los Angeles Rams, will serve as a stop-gap coach for the University of Idaho, officials announced today.

Williams, an ex-Washington State college star who lives in nearby Spokane, Wash., will help out this spring grid training while Idaho continues the search for a head coach to replace Dixie Howell who resigned first of week.

School officials stressed that Williams has not applied for the Idaho job and will return to the Rams.

Williams is a defensive ace with the Rams, being used primarily against passing attacks.

"Idaho's defense weakness cost us victory in several crucial games last year," said Idaho Manager of Athletics Gale Mix, "We're happy to be able to get a defense specialist such as Williams to work with us."

During his college days, Williams was a factor in two Idaho losses to WSC, in 1947 and '48.

Helping Williams guide the Vandals through their spring training will be John Mkovitch, assistant appointed assistant coach from California, and Babe Curfman, who resigned as assistant last week, but agreed to remain until the end of June.

Warned to Fight

WASHINGTON, April 6 (UP) — Joey Maxim and Ike Williams were permitted to keep the National Boxing association championships today, but both men were warned that the titles may soon be taken away for failure to defend them.

The NBA, in releasing its quarterly ratings of fighters throughout the world, said its executive committee will shortly announce a formal policy on the two champs.

Ump Named for Pioneer League

POCATELLO, April 6 (AP)—The class C Pioneer baseball league will open its 1951 season with seven new umpires.

The names of eight arbitrators were announced by League President Jack F. Hallinan of Glendale, Calif., is a holdover from last year. None of the others were on the 1950 Pioneer roster.

The new umps include Daniel F. McNamara, Jersey City, N. J.; Mel Steiner, San Pedro, Calif.; Hi Bithorn, Chicago; Jack Kerman, Chicago; Glen Carey, Phoenix, Ariz.; Elnar W. Sorensen, Mount Airy, N. C., and Wilber P. Schiebe, Burlington, Wis.

Boise Pilots Get Slugging Pitcher

ATWATER, Calif., April 6 (AP)—The Boise Pilots of the Pioneer baseball league have acquired one of those baseball exceptions, a pitcher who also can hit.

He is Wayne Richards, who won seven and lost two for Porterville in the Sunset league two years ago.

Boise Manager Tom Lloyd said Richards can hit well enough to double in the outfield if necessary.

The New Order

They're three soon Yankee stadium, but Mickey Mantle, left, and Gil McDougald, remarkable recruits, already are congratulating each other on hitting homeruns. Here Mantle shakes McDougald's hand as he skips across homeplate after socking a four-bagger in an exhibition game. McDougald, second baseman for the Twin Falls Cowboys in 1948, his first year in pro ball, is destined for the utility infield spot on the Yankee roster this season.

Chicago Quarterback Named Grid Immortal

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., April 6 (AP)—In the early 1900's when iron men ruled in college football, 145-pound, frail-looking Walter Eckersall of Chicago was a giant among quarterbacks. He flashed so brilliantly across the gridiron firmament with his fantastic kicking, running and passing that it was almost inevitable that he should be named quarterback today on the all-time All-America team. Eckersall, like other greats of the game picked in the nationwide poll by the Associated Press, will be first up for consideration by the honors court for selection to the football Hall of Fame.

The national Hall of Fame, with the endorsement of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, is planning a $5,000,000 shrine at Rutgers university here, birthplace of American football.

In conjunction with the Hall of Fame, the Associated Press conducted a poll of sports editors and broadcasters, to pick an unprecedented all-time team as well as second and third elevens.

Players named to these teams will be given first consideration by the honors court which will make the final selection for the shrine.

Eckersall, who died March 24, 1930, left a few resplendent memories, but more than 100 sports editors gave him the top quarterback total of 312 points. Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first team vote, five for second and two for third.

Sammy Baugh, the passing star of Texas Christian in the late '30s who went on to become one of professional football's outstanding performers, was second with 170 points, followed by Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame, who was a leading passing ace in the period following World war II when the pass was king.

Eckersall also played at the University of Chicago from 1902 through 1906, held nearly every drop-kicking and punting record. He also was an elusive ball carrier and a crack passer in the air game's dimpy days.

Other quarterbacks high in the voting were: Chris Cagle of Army, Alvin (Bo) McMillin of Centre, Frankie Albert of Stanford, Frank Carideo of Notre Dame, Bennie Friedman of Michigan, Harry Stuhldreher of Notre Dame and Bobby Dodd of Tennessee.

In his lifetime, Lou Gehrig hit 23 home runs with the bases loaded.

Simmons Quits Tribe Because Of Bad Health

TUCSON, Ariz., April 6 (AP)—Al Simmons tearfully told Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, "I can't help you any longer," and quit major league baseball for the first time in 26 years.

In his time one of baseball's greatest hitters—he has a lifetime batting average of .334—Simmons resigned as the Indians' third base coach because of poor health.

"I'm going home to see my doctor in Milwaukee and find out what's wrong with me," said the 47-year-old mildly jolly Pole, who was born Al Szymanski in that town. "I'm finished for this year."

It is believed fairly certain that Charles (Red) Embry, ex-Yankee pitching star and now roving coach for Cleveland, will be appointed to fill the vacancy left by Simmons.

For the present, Jack Flowers will coach third base and Mel Harder will take over at first.

Simmons, whose name always will be associated with the Philadelphia Athletics, for whom he starred in their pennant winning days, has been plagued with "a case of nerves," according to his friends.

His poor health, they say, added to a number of personal problems, has depressed him a great deal.

Simmons joined the Indians in 1950 and coached third base under Manager Lou Boudreau.

Panhandle Hopes For Large Golf Tourney Event

COEUR D'ALENE, April 6 (AP)—With hope held that southern Idaho will send a large feminine contingent of golfers here, Officials of the 1951 Idaho state women's golf tournament predict a huge entry list in the annual event at the Hayden Lake Golf club course, June 25 through June 30.

This year marks the first time in history that the tournament will be held in the Idaho Panhandle, said Mrs. John G. Richards of Hayden Lake, president of the Idaho association. Intense interest in the tourney upstate has prompted her to forecast scores of northern entries. Mrs. Richards and committee workers huddled to further tourney preparations.

Competition will be in flights on a match play basis. The schedule calls for practice rounds June 24, Qualifying play June 26, and match play June 27 through the 30th. Defending champion is Rosie's Peggy Bolse Manager Tom Lloyd said Richards can hit well enough to double in the outfield if necessary. Stein of Twin Falls.

Two Twin Falls Youths Find Workout Strenuous at Cowboys Training Camp

By GUS KELKER

BOYES SPRINGS, Calif., April 6 (Special)—They are not going to sign contracts, but two youths from Twin Falls are getting as much good out of the Cowboy training camp this year as anyone.

The two are Bob Mingo and Ray Shumway. They are down here as guests of the club to fill in where needed because of the shortage of players.

After a few days of working out both boys are rapidly rounding into shape.

It was on the second day that we talked to Mingo. He had been in there driving all the time and taking his regular turn as batting practice catcher. Two words he said adequately told just how he felt at that stage of the game. The two words were "I'm dead."

Mingo has been favoring a sprained ankle most of the time that he has been here. Trainer Dutch Anderson keeps it tightly taped for him and works over it twice a day. When it is taped up, Mingo says it doesn't bother him.

On the other hand, Shumway has incurred no injuries other than a couple of sore spots. He has been alternating with Manager Don "Dep" Brower at the third base mark and has been doing a credible job.

Both boys are hustling, getting the most out of the opportunity of training with Manager Mingo is slated for the majors, probably in 1952, just 18 years of age.

Manager Brower has been on hand both of them on all road trips during exhibition games this spring.

Shumway, in particular, has expressed the confidence that with a group of experienced players is a lot different than outs in high school.

"Boy," he said, "you sure do need to here, and when you get up you just keep going. No letting up."

Fazio Jumps Into Lead of Golf Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—Quiet, unspectacular George Fazio turned awesome Augusta national with what he called "popcorn balls" Thursday to take a two-stroke first round lead in the Masters golf tournament with a four-under-par 68.

But the slim, 36-year-old veteran professional from Conshohocken, Pa., couldn't go to his hotel for a good night's sleep because breathing hot on his neck were three of the game's great champions and competitors—Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Ben Hogan.

Sam Snead and Lloyd Mangrum tied for second with 69's and right behind came that grim-jawed little national open champion, Ben Hogan.

Snead, shooting all fifteen of the holes in par or better, had a recently fractured hand, banged out a 34-35-69. Mangrum, 1946 open champion, finished blisteringly for a 36-33-69.

Hogan put together a pair of steady 35's. The Masters is the only major championship not yet won by this tantum-amester from Fort Worth, Tex.

Four others—Byron Nelson, Lew Worsham, Johnny Bulla and young Dick Mayer—were tied at 71, the only others to crack the rugged 35-36-72 par of this 6,000-yard, pine-fringed layout.

Others in the field of 66 were strung out all the way from par to 86 registered by Amold old Fred McLeod, 59, Washington, D. C., the 1908 open champion.

There were few people around outside of the entries to Fazio, who lost to Hogan at Merion last June in a playoff for the National open championship, strolled calmly along putting together his remarkable 34-33-68.

Aussies May Drop Olympic Contests

MELBOURNE, April 6 (AP)—Australia may give up the 1956 Olympic games.

The Sydney Morning Herald's Melbourne correspondent wrote that a closed conference of political leaders has been called for Tuesday at which time a decision is expected.

Australia in general, and Melbourne in particular, was awarded the 1956 games at the general meeting of the Olympic fathers in Rome in 1949.

Looks Good

Cowboys No Number 22

BOYES SPRINGS, Calif., April 6—With the arrival of Jim Monte, veteran infielder, the day the roster of the Twin Falls Cowboys, in spring training here, was boosted to 22 men.

Monte, a 30-year-old veteran with five years of professional experience, reported late after a brief holdout over terms with the Pioneer league rookie.

Manager Don "Dep" Brower is grooming the Cowboys for a series of exhibition games with Ogden to see the team in action before the season opens Tuesday in Reno, Nev., and Sunday in Redding, Calif. Monte will be available for action in a game with the Boyes Springs nine.

Mantle Called Second Phys

EL PASO, Tex., April 6 (AP)—The publicity given Mickey Mantle the past month has made him one of Manager Casey Stengel's favorites on the Yankees baseball board to call him in for a look-see.

The Yankee pilot has notified by Mickey that he has ordered to report to Phoenix, Miami, Okla., next week.

Cast Taken For Dropo's Fracture

BOSTON, April 6 (AP)—The cast on Red Sox slugger Walt Dropo's fractured right wrist was removed Wednesday and Dropo immediately made plans to rejoin the team Friday at Augusta, Ga.

Dr. Ralph McCarthy, team physician, interpreted the big first baseman not to swing a bat or do any heavy work with the wrist "for at least a week or 10 days." The Sox return to Boston April 13 for their three-game exhibition series with the Braves. The baseball season opens here April 17.

Of National leaguers in more than 100 games last season, Willard Marshall of the Braves struck out the fewest times. He whiffed five times in 105 games.

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Strong buying of railroad shares today sent the stock market into one of the widest advances of the year.

Prices were up more than $2 a share at the best with some few well beyond that. Nickel Plate, for example, at one time was up $11 a share at $219.

Volume of business expanded rapidly on the rise but slowed down when the crest of the advance neared.

Transactions came to an estimated 1,800,000 shares for the day, best since the middle of last month. Yesterday the total was 1,200,000 shares.

Steels joined with the rails and posted substantial plus signs in active trading.

Also standing out on the higher side were the motors, copper mining, oils, chemicals, and some of the radio-televisions, farm implements, air lines and miscellaneous manufacturers.

Yesterday's late strength in the rails was the signal for overnight buying orders to flood the market. That in turn brought in demand in other sections of the list.

House Committee Wields Fund Axe

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The house appropriations committee voted a 43 per cent cut today in a $843,463,569 emergency fund asked by President Truman.

It approved only $478,136,368 of the total sought by Mr. Truman to finance a number of emergency government activities for the remaining months of this fiscal year which ends June 30.

One of the larger cuts was in the Voice of America overseas broadcast program. Despite a plea yesterday by the President for the full amount, the committee recommended that only $9,533,939 of the $97,500,000 be granted.

Another cut was in the $454,000,000 budget of non-military defense agencies. The committee voted to hold the agencies to $224,750,000.

Plans of New School Given To Kiwanians

Twin Falls Kiwanis club members, at their weekly meeting Thursday at Legion hall, heard school officials and architects describe the details of the proposed new Twin Falls high school.

During a question and answer period it was brought out the structures will require about one and one-half years to complete and that it is expected bids will be called for this fall for the $1,250,000 institution.

Eugene Brienholt, architect, described physical characteristics of the plant, and Supt. A. W. Morgan outlined history of the negotiations leading up to date.

Enrollment Cited

He brought out the new institution will accommodate an enrollment of 1,100 to 1,200. Enrollment in Twin Falls high school now, he said, is less than 10 years ago, and throughout the U. S. high school attendance is less now than 15 years ago.

Kenneth Longballa was program chairman and presented Charles Shirley, chairman of the board of education. Others introduced included Elvis Cain, member of the board, and Holmes Lash, associate architect of the Frank H. Paradice, jr., firm, employed to prepare plans.

Coordinator Named

It was announced at the meeting that N. V. Sharp, member of the Filer club, had been named Utah-Idaho Kiwanis district coordinator of the conservation and agriculture committee activities of the district.

The club also voted to sponsor a four-man professional softball team in an appearance here June 13, the quartet to meet an all-star Magic Valley team at a benefit performance in Jaycee ball park.

Ray J. Holmes, president, presided at the session.

Crash Reported

Cars driven by K. Rhinehart, 225½ Second street south, and J. Murphy, 833 Shoshone street north, collided at Five Points west at 12:59 p.m. Thursday. The Rhinehart car was damaged when struck from behind while waiting for a traffic light. The Murphy car was not damaged.

You know Skylark is fresh-because it's DATED FRESH EVERY DAY!

LOOK FOR THIS DATE... it's your proof that Skylark is first-day fresh

Skylark ENRICHED WHITE BREAD

HERE'S WHY WE DATE SKYLARK:

It's your proof, your guarantee that your loaf of Skylark was freshly baked for today. Most other brands do not carry this proof. Always buy Skylark, in the red and white, candy-striped wrapper. You always know that Skylark is first-day fresh!

Each day's sale of Skylark is carefully estimated in advance. Then, Skylark's expert bakers mix all the fine ingredients, then pop the baking pans into the oven. Finally, as each toasty-brown loaf comes out, it is wax wrapped and sealed with a special end seal.

This end seal carries the day, Monday, or Tuesday, and so on. Then the loaves are rushed to your Safeway Store, just in time for sale. If there should be any unsold dated bread at the end of the day, it is removed—never again sold as fresh bread. No guesswork with Skylark—you know it's first-day fresh!

Skylark BREAD DATED FRESH EVERY DAY!

at SAFEWAY

Guaranteed

YOUR MONEY BACK IF SKYLARK ISN'T THE FINEST BREAD YOU'VE EVER EATEN

Not only do we guarantee that SKYLARK is fresh every day, but we guarantee you can't buy a better bread. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with SKYLARK bread, we ask you to drop into any Safeway store and your money will be refunded immediately and without question.
